New Move to Cut Surtax Off Dec. 31

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said today he will vote reluctantly against a proposal to end the income tax surcharge at the end of this year.

A 5 per cent surcharge continuing until next June 30 is included in the pending tax reform bill, but Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., D-Va., offered an amendment to kill the extension.

Mansfield said he hoped to obtain a vote on Byrd's proposal by mid-afternoon and then proceed with other amendments.

The Democratic leader said he did not like the surtax because he regarded it as a war tax which should be dispensed with as soon as possible.

On the other hand, he said, there has been a sort of understanding that a six months extension, at the reduced 5 per cent rate, would be included in the big tax reform-tax relief package.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., the acting Republican leader, said he also would vote against the Byrd amendment.

"The President's program against inflation depends on continuing the surtax," he said.

"It's just beginning to take hold and I think it would be very unfortunate to pull the rug out from under him."

Music Students See College Performance

A group of 43 music students, both band and choir members, attended the Henderson State College Musical Theater production last Tuesday night, November 18. The group saw two comedies: "A Game of Chance" and "Wife for Sale" by a contemporary French composer, Jacques Ibert. Other trips to nearby colleges are planned during the coming year to enable interested students to have the opportunity to see live performances.

Says U.S. Being Smeared by Reds

TOKYO (AP) — Three American soldiers released by the Viet Cong this month said the Vietnam war "has smeared the honor and prestige" of the United States, Hanoi's official Vietnam News Agency said today.

A broadcast said the three expressed their views in an "open letter" to U.S. troops which they wrote before they were released Nov. 5.

The three, now back in the United States, are Pfc. Coy R. Tinsley, 22, of Cleveland, Tenn.; Spec. 4 James R. Strickland, 22, of Dunn, N.C.; and Spec. 4 Willie A. Watkins, 22, of Sumter, S.C. They were held as prisoners from eight to 22 months.

Fireworks, Champagne Greet Astronauts on Safe Return to Earth

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer
SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Splash went the capsule. Bang went the fireworks. Pop went the champagne.

Apollo 12 was down and astronauts Charles Conrad Jr., Richard F. Gordon Jr., and Alan L. Bean were safe.

At the Bean home, the splash-down was greeted with firecrackers and champagne.

At the Conrad's, cheers and champagne.

At the Gordon's, whoops and hollers. And champagne.

What was there for Barbara Gordon to say? "Wild, delighted, proud, happy."

Apollo 12 had drifted down through a cloudy sky in the South Pacific and made a pinpoint landing.

"The sight of the spacecraft on the parachutes was the prettiest sight I've ever seen in my life," said Sue Bean.

For Jane Conrad, it was "wonderful . . . fabulous . . . great."

"Real neat," suggested Chris Conrad, who will be 10 Wednesday.

The two Bean children, Clay, 13, and Amy, 6, touched off fireworks while their mother joined house guests in a swinging rendition of "The Eyes of Texas."

Both Sue and Alan Bean are Texans.

"Break out the champagne!" shouted Mrs. Gordon, normally the most reserved of the Apollo 12 wives.

The families watched the dramatic final moments of the moon mission with friends and relatives on home television sets, cheering at the sight of the chutes and laughing as the astronauts tumbled from the capsule.

Q. What kind of people—men, women, children?

A. Men, women, children.

Q. Babies?

A. Babies. And we all hauled them up, we made them squat down, and uh, Lt. Calley came over and said, 'You know what to do with them, don't you, and I said, 'Yes.' So I took it for granted that he just wanted us to watch them. And he left, and came back about 10 or 15 minutes, and said, 'How come you ain't killed them yet.' And I told him that I didn't think you wanted us to kill them, that you just wanted us to guard them. He said, 'No, I want them dead.' So . . . he stepped back 'bout 10, 15 feet, and he started shooting 'em. And he told me to start shooting. So I started shooting, I poured about four clips into, to the group.

Q. And you killed how many at that time?

A. Well, I fired them on automatic, so you can't—you just spray the area . . . you really can't know how many you killed . . . I might have killed 10 or 15 of them . . .

Q. You're married?

A. Right.

A. I don't know. It's just one of them things . . .

A. Yes, he was my platoon leader.

A. By me stepping on a land mine. So I feel like I've been punished.

State Income Tax Director Resigns

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Lynn Roland Jr., director of the state Revenue Department's income tax division, has submitted his resignation effective Dec. 31, it was announced today.

It also was announced that Hugh L. Brown, an attorney in the Legal Division, also was resigning effective Dec. 31. He and Roland will enter private law practice together.

Revenue Commissioner Bob K. Scott said both men were disappointed with the salary scale under the new state employee classification system and with limited operating funds of the Revenue Department budget.

Roland and Brown said a prime reason for their resigning was low salaries. Brown received $10,020 a year and Roland $9,708.

Roland said the department needed six to eight additional auditors.

He also expressed concern at a reduction of department employees, saying that unless additional funds become available for operations, the department will fall behind in collecting and refunding state income tax returns.

Scott also announced that Mrs. Elsjane Trimble Roy had been hired by the department as an attorney at an entrance salary of $9,540 a year. The Arkansas Legislative Council previously had refused Scott permission to hire her at that salary, but Scott said a council committee studying the matter later gave "implied consent" to hiring her at that salary.

Bu Prang Is Reattacked, 1 GI Dead

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese artillerymen renewed their attacks on the Bu Prang Special Forces camp today, killing the first American inside the camp since it came under heavy pressure four weeks ago. Six other Americans were wounded.

Fifteen to 20 mortar and recoilless rifle shells hit the camp near the Cambodian border 110 miles northeast of Saigon. Some of them landed in an area where the camp's American artillerymen were cooking breakfast.

No American infantrymen have been committed to the Bu Prang region and only a small contingent of artillerymen and Green Beret advisers are at the camp. South Vietnamese forces have suffered some heavy casualties in fighting in the region, but their performance is considered a test of President Nixon's policy of Vietnamizing the war.

Less than 50 miles farther south, North Vietnamese troops shelled five American base camps and clashed with U.S. patrols along the Cambodian border in an arc 75 to 90 miles north of Saigon. Six Americans and 23 North Vietnamese soldiers were reported killed and 31 Americans wounded. Enemy mines damaged an American tank and two armored personnel carriers.

In the same region, American scout helicopters were sent up as bait and drew fire from North Vietnamese machine-gun positions. The chopper pilots called in U.S. fighter-bombers and artillery, and the U.S. Command said 42 North Vietnamese were killed and half a dozen antiaircraft machine guns were destroyed.

Three American helicopters were hit, the allies said, but all returned safely to their bases. Two crewmen were reported wounded. The bombers, artillery and helicopter gunships also destroyed 50 enemy bunkers, the U.S. Command reported.

Most of the antiaircraft guns were reported to be within three miles of the Cambodian border and near the U.S. Special Forces camp at Bu Dop, 80 miles north of Saigon. Enemy gunners fired on an Air Force transport landing at Bu Dop but missed.

Elsewhere, only light and scattered action was reported. The allied command said there were 13 enemy shellings during the night. Only one was considered significant—a 20-round mortar barrage that hit a U.S. artillery base near Song Be, in the same border area where the helicopters were fired on. The U.S. Command said casualties were light.

Some 50 enemy soldiers were reported killed in other fighting across the country. Government troops claimed 32 of them in two Mekong Delta battles.

Another government battalion clashed with North Vietnamese troops Monday a mile southeast of the Bu Prang Special Forces camp in the central highlands and reported killing 20 of the enemy with the help of U.S. bombers and artillery. South Vietnamese casualties were six killed and 15 wounded, field reports said.

Official sources said today the Viet Cong command has made no real attempt to conduct coordinated attacks throughout South Vietnam in the three weeks since it launched its winter campaign.

"The lack of coordinated activity suggests that the first phase of the campaign is to be a preliminary one with a major effort perhaps scheduled for later," said one source.

"One of the purposes of the initial phase of the campaign may be to attempt to alleviate food and ammunition shortages . . . in order to increase their capabilities for later actions," the source said.

Panthers to Set Up Clinics
OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The Black Panther party says it is setting up a series of free medical clinics throughout the United States to show what people can do for themselves without government assistance.

Masai Hewitt, minister of education, said the clinics were first established on the East Coast about six months ago.

Hewitt said free clinics are planned for about 30 "underprivileged areas" and will be voluntarily staffed and equipped for "first and second aid."

He said offers of volunteer medical assistance "are pouring in."

Students Will Deal With Unrest

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Student task forces will be organized in North Carolina this winter to help deal with unrest in the public schools.

This was decided Monday by 15 high school pupils from around the state who met to plan ways in which pupils can deal with school racial problems.

State Revenue Department to Retrench

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Revenue Commissioner Bob K. Scott said today the Revenue Department faced an austerity program for the rest of the fiscal year to stay within its budget.

Scott told a news conference the department was overspending its appropriation, but that he could not say at this time how much of a cutback would be required to remain within its budget.

Dr. Max Milam, director of the state Administration Department, had said last week the department was over its appropriation for the first quarter of the current fiscal year and was over for the current quarter.

Scott also announced that David Jones, who had resigned as director of purchasing and finance for the department over a question about expense accounts, had been retained by the department on a consulting basis.

Scott said Jones was put back on the state payroll to help William W. McLendon, who was named last week to succeed Jones.

Scott said that each division of the department was remanding its budget for the remainder of the fiscal year. He said that it would be difficult to specify where the department will make cuts until the budgets are revamped.

He said the department is being forced to reduce personnel in order to stay within its appropriation.

Scott said the department had overspent about $60,000 in the first quarter for maintenance and operation. The total probably will be up to $150,000 by the end of the second quarter, he said.

Eisenhower's Grandson to Join Navy

BOSTON (AP) — David Eisenhower has decided to accept his grandfather's advice and join the Navy after graduating from Amherst College, the Boston Herald Traveler said today.

The newspaper said young Eisenhower was counseled by the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower and by his father, both West Point graduates, to enter the Navy if he planned only brief military service.

Young Eisenhower, a senior at Amherst, and son-in-law of President Nixon, was not available for comment on his plans.

David Eisenhower has said he hopes to study law after completing his military obligations, and possibly to seek a political career.

Another speaker will be John Ehrlichman, who has been serving as counsel to the President before assuming his new post, will talk about "Domestic Strategy for the Seventies."

Rogers C. B. Morton of Maryland, national Republican party chairman, will outline campaign plans for 1970 when 35 governorships will be up for election.

Withdrawal of Troops to Continue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will continue to pull troops out of Vietnam even though President Nixon has not yet announced any further cutback goals, a Pentagon spokesman said today.

The spokesman described the withdrawal as an "on-going, continuing program" and said the momentum would be maintained beyond the announced immediate goal of 60,000, which was reached last week, some 25 days before the Dec. 15 objective date.

The spokesman said Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird believes there is a momentum in the withdrawal process that will continue.

The spokesman agreed that a new presidential announcement of withdrawal goals probably will describe what already has been happening.

Nixon is expected to make a further announcement with withdrawals by late December. This would be his third such announcement since the troop reduction program was ordered in June.

SHOWBEAT

By DICK KLEINER
Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—(N E A)—
On the set of "Move," the fad was sunflower seeds. Every movie set, every location, company, every film that's made has a nutty fad that grips everybody for the duration. With "Move," it was sunflower seeds.

You could hear the steady snap-snap of the shells being cracked. As you walked, you stepped on them. In pockets and pocketbooks you could see the cellophane bags stuffed.

"I started it," said director Stuart Rosenberg. "I'm on a diet, and sunflower seeds are the best things to eat. They contain no calories and, besides, they break down the fat."

Elliot Gould, on camera, ate a few between takes. Then he had another thought.

"This is apple season," he called out. "Why can't we have some apples on the set?"

Soon Gould was munching on an apple.

"They get me everything I ask for," he said, as though he couldn't understand it. "I guess that's stardom."

It was, of course, "Bob and Carol and Ted and Alice" that pushed Gould over the top. He knows it.

"That gave me a chance to do things," he says. "And there are so many things I want to do. I'll do them, too, until they find me out."

His costar in "Move," a strange comedy about today, is the lovely kook, Paula Prentiss. Actually, she isn't all that kooky, either. Not any more. Not since she came to know herself.

"Now," she says. "I know what's important is every day, and everyday living. I enjoy life. I enjoy eating and drinking and sex and everything else. That's what life is all about, enjoyment."

Her career is starting up again. She didn't do much in films after "What's New Pussycat?" She did the series. He and She, which most people liked but the network dropped anyway.

"When that ended," Paula says, "we (her husband and costar Dick Benjamin) were

IS SEX GOING OUT OF STYLE?

Dear Helen: Is politics replacing sex as the great American sport for young people? You hardly ever read about sex on the campus any more. Now it's take-overs of administration buildings.

The other day I wandered into a book store and there was "Sexual Behavior in the United States" marked down from $4.95 to $1.00; and "How to Understand Sex, A Guidebook for Students" slashed from $5.95 to $3.00, to $1.00—and it still wasn't selling!

In our city, I haven't seen many young people lined up to see those nude movies and plays, though middle-agers are pretty goggle-eyed, and the same goes for our one "under the counter" bookstore. The kids buy underground newspapers that are very open and matter of fact about sex, but they don't go for the stuff that is supposed to "shock." Or amuse. Or titillate.

Maybe we elders should be happy about this, but instead I'm a little worried. What will happen to a generation that is beginning to consider love dull? —OVER-30 COLLEGE STUDENT.

Dear Over-30: I doubt that ANY generation will consider love and sex "dull." Think, man, if that ever happened, the whole economy of the country would topple, for most of our ads, books, plays, magazines, goods and materials pitch hard on the male-female theme. (Can you think of a better one?)

But I've an idea that this generation marks the last of the "goggle eyes." After all, when you've seen and heard just about everything, the "shockers" lose their appeal. There isn't too much they can do for an encore, so perhaps what you're noting, "Over-30," is the leveling off period that comes after the revolution has been won.—H.

Dear Helen: I'm pregnant. I can't tell my folks. They love me and I just can't bear to let them down. I was a crazy fool who went to a party and drank too much, and because I thought I loved the guy, it seemed all right—then. Now we've broken up. I couldn't tell HIM. We never even spoke to each other again after that night. I don't have money for a doctor, and besides, he'd tell my parents. Where can I turn.—FIFTEEN AND SCARED

Dear 15: Call your Public Health Nurse who will direct you to your town's newly organized Counseling Service for Unwed Mothers. Here, an understanding adviser will show you that parents are your greatest allies, and you aren't alone. You will receive help all the way through from this Service—and I hope it may soon be available in every city!

SWINGING toward the future, this outfit is called "The Etherea I Dressing." It is created entirely in pearls and features a halter top with swinging skirt.

NOTE TO READERS: I can be, for federal funds have been set up for local Unwed Parent's Counseling Services, if cities provide 25 per cent of the money. Talk it over with your Board of Supervisors.—H.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The National Educational Television network pulled together a panel of communications experts Monday night for an hour's discussion of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's recent criticism of television and print media news coverage.

In commenting on the speeches of Nov. 13 and 20, the panel reflected as many shades of opinion as there were men on the panel.

Participants were Fred Friendly, former president of CBS News; Frank Shakespeare Jr., former CBS executive now head of the USIA; Norman Isaacs, executive editor of The Louisville Courier-Journal and Times and president of the American Association of Newspaper Editors; Bill Moyers, former press secretary to President Lyndon B. Johnson and publisher of Long Island's Newsday; James Kilpatrick, syndicated columnist, and Robert Wells, recently named to the Federal Communications Commission.

Opinion ranged from complete agreement with the vice president by Kilpatrick to fears by

Isaacs that broadcasters may feel threatened and react. The hour was far too crowded since it opened with film clips from the two speeches. There were too many participants for the time given—it would have been interesting to have heard more from Moyers who had seen news coverage from inside the White House. At one point Friendly and Shakespeare took over the program in a long dialogue about whether there was among commentators, reporters and editors in broadcasting what Shakespeare called "a diverse ideological mix."

Isaacs, expressed concern that after the next presidential speech "maybe the stations will cut away" from the networks and not carry the commentary.

The program was, however, an excellent public briefing for tonight's "60 Minutes" on CBS when the network commentators under Agnew's fire—Walter Cronkite, Chet Huntley, David Brinkley and Howard K. Smith—will be heard from.

Tennessee Ernie Ford's special on NBC was a pleasant musical hour against London backgrounds and using British talent.

NBC will drop "Letters to Laugh-In," a daytime spin-off of the evening show, on Dec. 29 with "Name Droppers" moving into the time spot. At the same time, Art Linkletter who recently parted from CBS, and his son Jack will replace "You're Putting Me On," a game show, on NBC. "The Who, What or Where Game" taking over a midday spot.

The exact color of honey depends on the kind of flower from which the honey was made. Dark-colored honeys are made mostly from the nectar of buckwheat and from the flowers of tulip trees. Light honeys come from alfalfa, orange blossoms, sage, and some kinds of clover.

TV Folks Admit They Are Partial

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Hanging out the college football wash: The folks at ABC-TV who televise college football are supposed to be impartial, but it's no secret that they were rooting for Michigan to upset Ohio State Saturday.

Why? The reason is the Dec. 6 nationally televised contest between Texas and Arkansas, now ranked first and second in The Associated Press poll. The winner of that one could become the national champion.

The man responsible for switching the game from its original date of Oct. 18 is Boone Arledge, president of ABC-TV Sports.

"We all thought that Ohio State would get beat sometime," said a spokesman for the network. "Last February we looked over the schedule to see when two nationally ranked teams might meet."

We have Southern Cal and UCLA last Saturday and from the pre-season ratings that left Texas-Arkansas as the best bet. "We asked the two schools to switch the date and they agreed."

John Bateman of Rutgers has a unique reason for Ohio State's defeat.

"Their powers of concentration were gone," he said. "All week before the game Woody Hayes was kept busy answering questions about how good his team was, why they couldn't go to a bowl and also about Ohio State's financial situation."

"Football is a microcosm and you must keep everybody out of it."

With great fans like Louisiana State's, who needs a bowl bid? After Saturday night's 27-0 rout of Tulane, which climaxed a 9-1 season, Coach Charlie McLendon sported a lapel button made from a large screw to symbolize the lack of a bowl bid.

He also had the keys to a new car and expectations of a $2,500 pay raise. The car was a gift from LSU fans across the state.

"I'm really surprised at that," McLendon said. "Gosh knows it's been a great year."

With no bowl game to prepare for, McLendon has his plans for the off-season mapped out.

"I really didn't have time during the season to enjoy the victories because we always had another game to get ready for," he said. "I'm gonna sit back now and watch nine game films and really let 'em soak in."

Just when you think you've seen it all, along comes something new.

For instance, how about Duke's shoelace sleeper play? Tied 7-7 — Duke eventually won 17-13 — quarterback Leo Hart nonchalantly knelt off to the right of the football to tie a lace while the other 10 Blue Devils lined up to the left of the ball.

Split end Marcel Courtlet suddenly bent over and scooped the ball to flanker Wes Chesson, who raced 53 yards for a touchdown before North Carolina knew what happened.

It was a legal play — and Coach Tom Harp warned the officials it was coming.

For embarrassment, there was the official who threw the penalty flag on an obvious pass interference call in the Boston College-Massachusetts game.

He was right... but the pass had nicked a defender at the line of scrimmage, thus becoming a free ball and making interference impossible.

And didn't the officials goof when Florida State defensive tackle Frank Vohn intercepted a pass, scored the first touchdown of his career... and then refused to surrender the football?

The Seminoles were penalized 15 yards for unsportsmanlike conduct and had to kick a 35-yard extra point instead of a 20-yarder. The penalty should have been enforced on the ensuing kickoff, with the kick coming from the FSU 25 instead of the 40.

UCLA Going Without Help of Alcindor

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—In the post-Alcindor era, UCLA returns to the pre-Alcindor era.

Coach John Wooden of the Uclans outlined the outlook of his club, national champions in five of the past six years, in a parking lot interview Monday.

Southern California basketball writers had been smoked out of their first meeting of the season when a grease fire in the kitchen of a hotel forced evacuation.

Wooden said the Bruins' game this season will be more like that of the 1964 and 1965 championship years than during the three seasons when 7-foot-2-inch Lew Alcindor set the pace.

"We're going to have a good team," Wooden declared. "We're going back to the high post offense where we had a low post while Lewis was playing with us."

"I know the high post offense better and feel we have a good man for that offense in Steve Patterson. We'll use a man-to-man defense and press a lot."

Razorbacks Picked No. 2 in Nation

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Goodbye, Columbus... hello, Austin.

Those famed residents of Columbus, Ohio, the Ohio State Buckeyes, went the way of all flesh in Saturday's football action and now Texas sits in the catbird seat as the nation's No. 1 college team.

When Michigan rocked Ohio State 24-12, it made reverberations all the way to Austin, Tex., where the Longhorns room, The Associated Press' nationwide panel of sportswriters and sportscasters voted Texas into the top spot Monday.

The Longhorns, although idle over the weekend, took over the top ranking with 33 first place votes and 746 points. The Buckeyes, who had 736 points last week, collected 509 and spilled to fourth.

Arkansas' Razorbacks, who collide with Texas Dec. 6 for the Southwest conference title and possibly the No. 1 ranking, moved up a notch to second after a day off Saturday. Arkansas collected 603 points and no first place votes.

Penn State thrashed Pitt 27-7 and moved up a notch to third; Southern California stayed No. 5 after toppling UCLA 14-12; Missouri humiliated Kansas 69-21 and moved from seventh to sixth; Michigan shot from 12th to 7th after its upset of the decade; Notre Dame stayed No. 8 after spilling Air Force 13-6; Louisiana State went from 10th to ninth on the strength of its 27-0 whipping of Tulane, and Tennessee dropped a spot to No. 10 after its close-call 31-26 victory over Kentucky.

UCLA tumbled from No. 6 to No. 11 after its loss to Southern Cal, but the rest of the second ten remained about the same.

Auburn dropped a notch to 12th, Nebraska moved from 16th to 13th, Mississippi went down one spot to 14th and Stanford went down one to No. 15.

Rounding out the blue ribbon groups were, Purdue, Florida, Houston, West Virginia and Toledo.

Of the remaining five first place votes, Penn State garnered three, and Southern California and Michigan, one each.

Arkansas held a 30-point lead over Penn State, who collected 573 points, Southern Cal had 453; Missouri, 428; Michigan, 337; Notre Dame, 284; Louisiana State, 260 and Tennessee, 204.

Texas plays Texas A&M and Arkansas, Texas Tech, in traditional Thanksgiving Day games this week before their big meeting at Fayetteville.

Maxwell Is Expected to Play Thursday

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas coach Frank Broyles said Monday that fullback Bruce Maxwell probably would be able to play Thursday when the second-ranked Razorbacks take on Texas Tech at Little Rock.

The hard-running Maxwell was injured in the Nov. 15 victory over SMU and Broyles had said he did not think Maxwell would be ready for Tech.

Broyles was informed Monday that the Razorbacks, winners of eight straight this season, had moved up to No. 2 in The Associated Press college poll.

"That's where we started," Broyles said, referring to the preseason poll. "I think the Southwest Conference is well represented."

Texas, the Razorbacks' opponent Dec. 6, is ranked first in the nation.

The Razorbacks practiced for 90 minutes Monday in preparation for Tech.

"There was excitement in the air," Broyles said. "The weather was good and it was a beautiful day. Who could ask for more until Thursday."

Dave Bristol New Coach for Pilots

By PAUL WELLS
SEATTLE (AP) — Dave Bristol was back in the big league baseball managing business again today, this time in Seattle, and there was only one direction for him to move—up.

Bristol, out of the managerial ranks for less than two months after being fired by the Cincinnati Reds at the end of the 1969 season, signed a "multiyear" contract with the tail-end Seattle Pilots Monday at an undisclosed salary.

Best guesses were that the contract was for two years at about $40,000 a year.

Selection of the 36-year-old Bristol as the second manager of the American League expansion club was announced at a news conference Monday by Marvin Milkes, Pilots' general manager.

Milkes picked the former North Carolina schoolteacher over Billy Martin, deposed Minnesota manager who led the Twins to the championship of the American League West this year.

Martin got the word by telephone at his Minneapolis home early Monday and told Milkes: "Naturally, I'm sorry we couldn't get together. But the Pilots made a great choice... I'll be available to you and Dave if he needs any information on the league and players."

Bristol, youngest manager in the majors, has had no American League connections during his 19-year baseball career, but he said the switch didn't bother him.

Bristol got the sack at Cincinnati after 3½ years at the helm when the Reds faded from contention in the National League West in the final week of the '69 season, finishing third.

He immediately went to the Montreal Expos as a coach but was given permission to talk with Milkes about the Seattle job when it came open last week with the firing of first-year manager Joe Schultz.

Schultz was let go after a group of Seattle businessmen closed a deal for majority control of the Pilots.

Bristol is taking over a club which finished last in the American League West this year after injuries sent the Pilots into a prolonged losing streak.

He and Milkes pointed to the New York Mets as an example of what an expansion club can do but said they hoped it wouldn't take Seattle nine years to become a pennant contender.

"We'll have to build from within," Bristol said. "You can't trade your way to a pennant."

When you get a quick-draw reputation, everybody in the saloon wants to take you on," Roy told a news conference. "But I guess that's the way it should be. If you don't want to defend it, you shouldn't be there."

Royal recalled that Texas had won nine straight games and was ranked No. 1 prior to the 1963 A&M game, and "you all know what happened in that game."

Texas trailed 13-9 in the closing minutes when an Aggie intercepted a Longhorn pass, that should have destroyed Texas' chances, but the A&M player tried to lateral, and Texas fell on the loose ball. Moments later an A&M back leaped high to intercept a Texas pass, but it was ruled he was out of the end zone.

Finally Texas pushed across a score to win, 15-13, and later walloped Navy 28-6, in the Cotton Bowl to finish the season undefeated.

When you are No. 1 Royal said, "You're sitting on a big ol' bomb with a mighty short fuse. It just gives them (A&M) another incentive," he said.

McCarthy Shuffle Could Cost Him Game

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The tactics Babe McCarthy used to help him win four Southeastern Conference championships at Mississippi State almost backfired on him Monday night in the American Basketball Association.

McCarthy's New Orleans Buccaneers survived his shuffle, however, and squeezed by the Dallas Chaparrals 81-79. The two-team total of 160 points was an ABA record for the fewest scored in one game. The previous low was 172 between Houston and Denver in January 1968.

"We went into our old slow-down shuffle too soon," said McCarthy. "That was my mistake. I developed that at Mississippi State to kill the ball for three minutes or so, but it's not nearly as effective when you have to give up the ball every 30 seconds."

The Bucks were ahead 78-72 in the fourth quarter when the shuffle started.

No doubt with tongue in cheek, McCarthy commented: "It was a good one for the fans to watch, but hell for both coaches. I'm just real happy that we can play that poorly and still be able to win."

Chaps Coach Cliff Hagan was unhappy about the outcome. He barred sportswriters from his dressing room and dashed away from the game without saying a word.

The victory kept New Orleans, which has won 10 of its last 11 games, in first place in the ABA's Western Division. Over-all New Orleans is 12-7 and Dallas is 10-11.

It was the only ABA action Monday night.

Royal Not Overlooking Texas A&M

By JACK KEEVER
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN (AP) — Texas' long-horns have been playing football since Sept. 20, but the season for the nation's new No. 1 college team "is a long way from being over," says Coach Darrell Royal.

Royal, clad in an orange pull-over sweater with his monogram — "DKR" — in white, didn't hesitate Monday when asked what was on his mind.

"A&M," he said.

The Aggies will try to spoil Texas' national championship dreams on Thanksgiving Day, and then comes what Royal calls "the big shootout" — the Dec. 6 game against second-ranked Arkansas in front of a national television audience.

Even if the Longhorns should win those, tough Notre Dame stands ready to try and spring an upset in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 1.

"It sober me when I realize we would have to beat our next three opponents" to stay No. 1, Royal said. "The odds are against it." But the odds also are against Arkansas whipping its next three foes, including Texas, Royal said.

"Somebody's going to beat those odds," he added.

Texas gained the top spot despite resting over the weekend as Michigan ruined Ohio State's perfect record, 24-12.

No. 1 is not new to Royal. His 1963 squad used two big breaks in the closing minutes to pull out the season finale against A&M, 15-13, for a national title, and his 1961 and 1965 squads were ranked No. 1 when they were beaten.

"Once you get a quick-draw reputation, everybody in the saloon wants to take you on," Roy told a news conference. "But I guess that's the way it should be. If you don't want to defend it, you shouldn't be there."

Michigan Coach Earned Title "Top Coach"

By LARRY PALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer
ANN ARBOR (AP) — Bo Schembechler walked briskly into the room, sat down at the luncheon table, and began opening a box of expensive cigars.

He passed some out to sports writers at the Monday press gathering and then lit one up himself.

"I'm calling the shots now," he smiled, twirling the fat cigar in his mouth then puffing like a proud, new father.

His Rose Bowl-bound Michigan football team was still basking in the limelight of its stunning 24-12 upset of Ohio State Saturday, topping OSU from the No. 1 spot in the country to fourth and pushing U-M from 12th to seventh.

"I'm big name now," laughed the 39-year-old first-year Wolverine coach. "They used to say, 'who's that guy from Michigan?'"

Schembechler, who played and coached under Woody Hayes at Miami of Ohio and Ohio State for eight years, became head coach at Michigan last December. Now he is the first rookie coach to win a piece of the Big Ten title since Fielding Yost in 1901 as both U-M and OSU finished with 6-1 conference records this year.

A tough coach, Schembechler is an easy going person outside his job. He was head coach at Miami from 1963 through last season, with his teams posting a 40-17-3 record. He brought six of his assistants with him to Michigan.

"He works harder than any coach I've ever seen in my life," said tight end Jim Mandich, named today on the All-Big Ten team.

"I'm sure everyone holds the greatest respect for Schembechler," he added, speaking for the team as its captain. "At times, I'm sure guys doubted his means, but they somehow knew he would achieve his ends."

Mandich, safety Tom Curtis, defensive halfback Barry Pierston, and other seniors were pumped in 29 points for Cincinnati and Dierking added 25. Oscar Robertson, celebrating his 31st birthday, contributed 23.

The Royals grabbed a 33-20 lead at the end of the first quarter, but the Bucks managed to whittle the advantage to 50-48 in the second period before the Royals spurred away and out of danger.

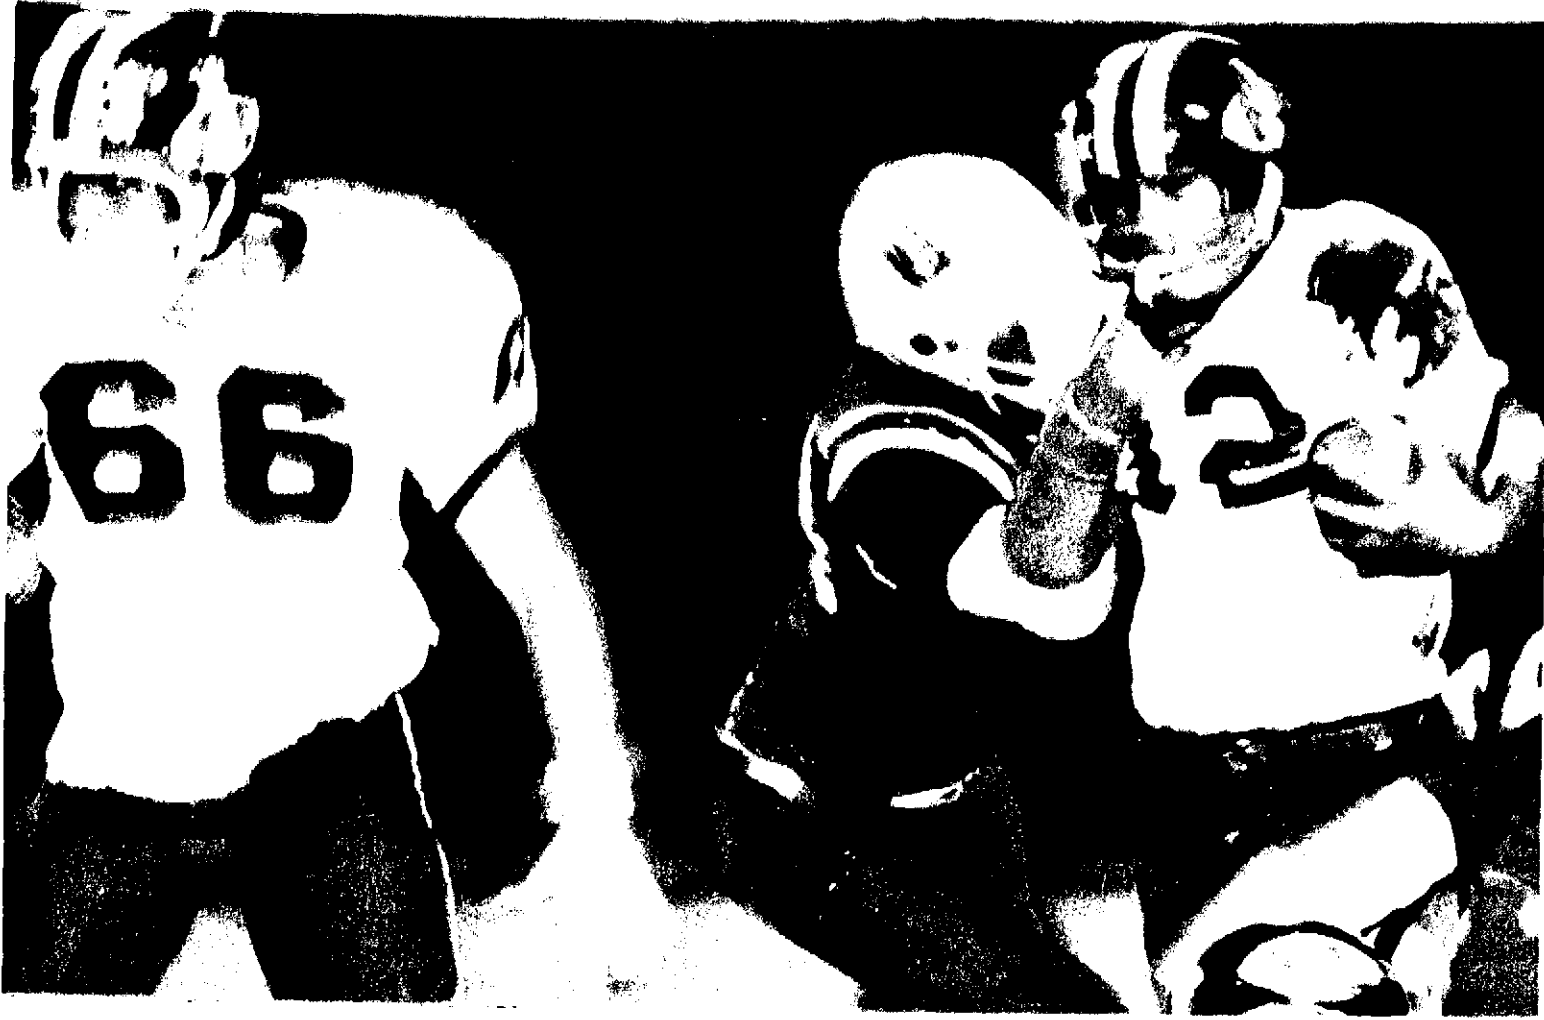

Jon McGlocklin and rookie guard John Arthurs scored 13 points each for Milwaukee.

John Block drilled in a pair of free throws with two minutes left to snap a 100-100 tie and then the Rockets pulled away to whip San Diego for their seventh victory in nine games.

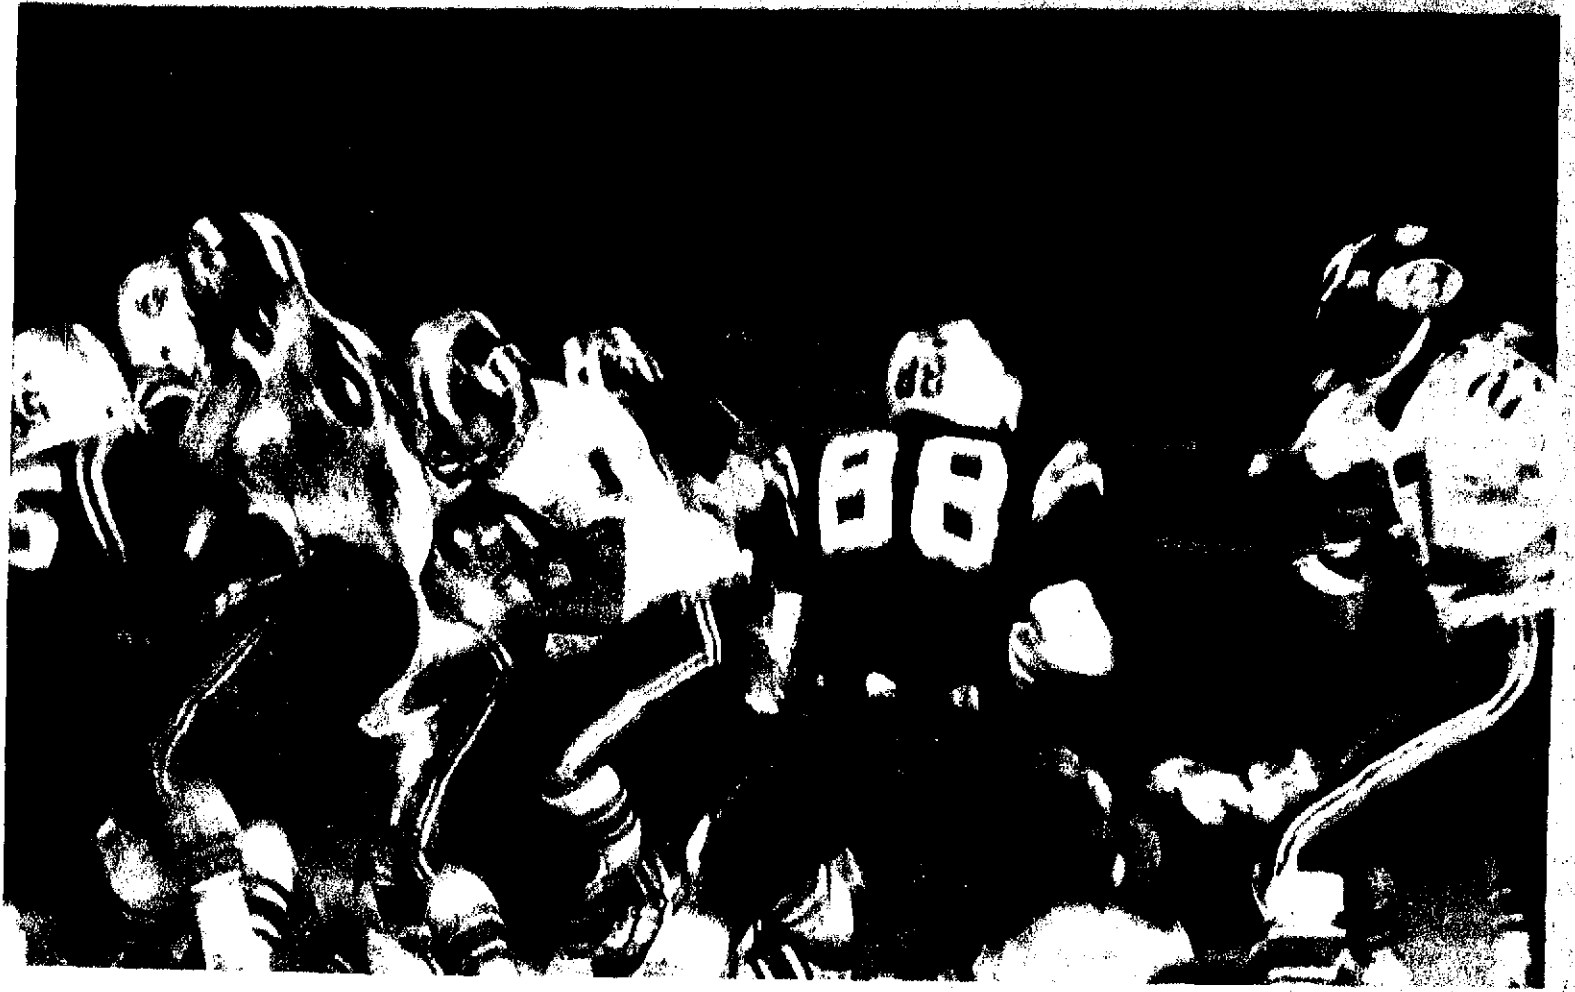

The lead then seceded until Block, who led all scorers with 32 points, put San Diego ahead for good with

Payments for Pain?

Under the federal Social Security Act, even though you have not yet reached the age of 65, you may collect monthly benefits if you are too "disabled" to work.

You can usually qualify for these benefits (after a waiting period) if you have a major illness or physical handicap. As a rule, both of these are considered disabling.

But suppose your only disability is pain. Must you grit your teeth and continue to work, or may you stay at home and expect a government check?

In the first place, since pain is hard to measure, the law takes a close look at the surrounding circumstances to decide just how bad your pain really is. Consider this case:

A telephone operator tried to collect disability benefits on the ground that a pelvic injury had left her in pain. However, in a court hearing, the government pointed out that the pain was not bad enough to keep the woman from doing the usual household chores—without wearing any kind of supporting garments.

Thereupon the court turned down her claim, saying the evidence simply did not add up to a pain that was truly disabling.

Furthermore, pain that would keep you from doing heavy physical labor may not qualify you as disabled if you are trained to do less strenuous work.

Thus, a market manager was denied disability benefits even though he was having back trouble. The court said his skills in management, being mainly mental, could be put to good use without any great physical distress.

Nonetheless, the law does ordinarily give a claimant the benefit of the doubt. When a manual laborer with tormenting backaches tried to collect as a disabled person, the court upheld his claim even though it was not literally impossible for him to work.

The judge commented: "The notion that pain must be endured, no matter how severe or overpowering, is contrary to disability provisions of the Social Security Act, which were intended to ameliorate some of the rigors that life imposes."

It is so easy to play when you see all the cards. That is, some hands are easy to play. Here is an old-timer that was played in an important team match in 1937. Both South players arrived at five diamonds doubled.

The bidding in the box was that at one table. We don't know how it went at the other table nor do we know the play. All we do know is that each declarer wound up going down one after West started out by leading the king and ace of spades.

The bidding should have located all the cards for South so we must assume that it is really hard to find the winning line of play. See if you can work it out!

South must start proceedings by ruffing that second spade with some diamond other than the six. He must now realize that East is marked with both the diamond and club kings for his opening bid and he must force an entry to dummy by leading his six of diamonds and overtaking with dummy's 10.

After this start East might just as well throw in his hand and start the next deal.

Suppose he forces declarer by leading out his queen of spades. Once more declarer must ruff high so as to be able to enter dummy with a second diamond. Then he takes the club finesse; cashes a second club; ruffs another club to clear the suit. Ruffs back to his own hand. The sensational play is to ruff the ace of hearts, draw the last trump and spread.

Q—What are the symptoms of leukemia? Do you diagnose it by a spinal tap or a blood count? What is the best remedy? Is there any foundation devoted to the study of this disease?

A—There are several types of leukemia. The onset may be sudden or gradual. Common symptoms include weakness, pallor, shortness of breath and fever. Other symptoms would depend on the part of the body involved. In making the diagnosis chief reliance is placed on the great increase in certain types of white blood cells.

Although there is no cure, more than a dozen new drugs have been found to benefit the victims. Often they are used in combination and the best combination in a given case must be found by clinical trial. For further details you may write to the Leukemia Society of America, 211 East 43rd St., New York, N.Y. 10017.

Q—Is it safe to rent a furnished apartment that was formerly occupied by a person who had leukemia? Should I disinfect it?

A—Despite the fact that leukemia appears to be a virus disease, it is not readily passed from person to person. Thus it is very rare for two members of a family to get it. No disinfection of the apartment beyond the thorough cleaning one usually does when moving is necessary.

Q—How does one get lice? What do they look like? Sometimes I feel something crawling all over me but I can't find anything. Could that be lice?

A—The three types—body, head and pubic lice—neither fly nor jump but they do get around. With no sense of loyalty or gratitude, they will leave one human host to live with another. Body lice live on the clothing rather than on the skin and take time out about twice a day to bite the host. They are

Boycott May Follow P.B. Shooting

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — The shooting of a Pine Bluff Negro man by a white man touched off a meeting Monday during which about 400 Arkansas AM&N students threatened to boycott Pine Bluff merchants.

Jefferson County Sheriff E. F. Oliver said Monday that Terrell L. Jacks, 54, of Pine Bluff was charged with first-degree murder in the shooting death of Percy Lee Jackson, 33, at a truck stop Saturday night on U.S. 79. Authorities said an AM&N coed and her date also were allegedly involved in the incident.

An unidentified Negro coed said during the assembly that AM&N that she received verbal insults and was hit on the head with a blackjack. She said Jacks, who owns the truck stop, attempted to intervene in an apparent argument that involved her date.

Oliver said Jacks told officers that he attempted to intervene in an argument between Jackson and another man. Oliver said the shooting occurred outside the cafe at the truck stop. He said Jackson was shot once and died en route to a Pine Bluff hospital. Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Monday at North Little Rock that State Police units would be "available in minutes if the situation should get out of hand."

"We have come to the conclusion and feel very strongly that an early show of strength is as inciting as it is fast," the governor said. "We are on the alert and we don't make a show of force until there is a need and we hope there won't be."

The chairman of the student group at AM&N, Verna Clayborne, 21, said a petition was being circulated at the school and would be presented to the Pine Bluff Chamber of Commerce as an official protest against alleged discriminatory practices by Pine Bluff merchants and businesses.

She said all black people in the Pine Bluff would be asked to participate in the boycott if the group's demands were not met.

Lawrence A. Davis, president of AM&N, said he was confident an effort would be made to solve the problem and that the Chamber of Commerce would consider a petition in good faith. Davis did not attend the meeting.

"I do not think the mass of student body and the responsible student leaders have any desire to create disruption in the community," Davis said.

'Flabby' Lions Put on Diet

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A big, fat lion simply isn't any healthier than a fat man, says John Roth who is in charge of Grant Park Zoo's health program.

So, the zoo's animals have been put on a diet.

"When the public used to see big, flabby lions snoozing on the floor of a cage, everyone thought the animals were healthy," Roth said in an interview. "But they weren't; they were getting too much protein in their diet, and not enough exercise. The animals were suffering from obesity."

Hixson Has Shot at U.S. Pass Title

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Southern Methodist quarterback Chuck Hixson, to no one's surprise, is the Southwest Conference passing champion, but he'll have to wait until after Saturday's Florida-Miami game to be named the national passing champion for the second straight year.

Florida sophomore quarterback John Reeves needs to complete 25 passes Saturday to tie Hixson for the national passing title.

Should Hixson wind up on top again, he would become only the third collegiate quarterback in NCAA statistical bureau history to win back-to-back passing titles.

Davey O'Brien of TCU did it in 1937-38 and Don Trull of Baylor accomplished the feat in 1962-63.

Hixson finished the season with 217 completions in 362 attempts for 59.9 per cent. TCU's Steve Judy was Hixson's closest competition in the SWC with 144 completions on 283 attempts.

The Mustangs powerful tailback Daryl Doggett picked up a career high 151 yards rushing against Baylor Saturday to regain the SWC rushing lead.

Doggett likely will lose the lead to Arkansas' Bill Burnett, who is only 91 yards behind and still has two more games to play.

SMU sophomore Gary Hammond leads in receiving and kickoff returns. Hammond has snagged 51 passes for 722 yards and two touchdowns and has returned 27 kickoffs 617 yards.

In the team category, Texas, the nation's No. 1 ranked team, leads in all department except passing offense and passing defense. SMU is the passing offense leader with a 236.0 average and Texas Tech leads in passing defense with a 111.8 average.

Texas holds the lead in total offense (489.0 yards per game average); total defense (224.6); rushing offense (382.0) and rushing defense (88.6).

Berry to Replace Falcon's Johnson

ATLANTA (AP) — Atlanta Falcons' quarterback Bob Berry will be reactivated this week, Coach Norm Van Brocklin has announced. Berry will replace injured quarterback Randy Johnson on the roster, but it was not known Monday if Berry will be ready to play when the Falcons take on the Baltimore Colts Nov. 30.

Berry had been sidelined with a thumb injury since Oct. 5.

Esposito Is Big Name in Hockey

NEW YORK (AP) — It is only natural to find an Esposito among the National Hockey League statistics leaders every week.

Last season it was Boston's Phil Esposito, who shattered all scoring records when he accumulated 126 points. This season it's Phil's kid brother, Tony, of the Chicago Black Hawks. His specialty isn't scoring but keeping the other guy from doing it.

Tony, a rookie, leads all NHL goalies according to statistics released today. Acquired in the summer draft from Montreal, Esposito has three shutouts and has allowed only 23 goals in 13 games for a sparkling 1.77 goals against average.

Esposito and Denis DeJordy, Chicago's other goalie, have allowed a total of 35 goals—12 fewer than Montreal, their closest competitor in the Vezina Trophy race.

Phil Goyette and Bobby Orr are tied for the scoring lead with 30 points apiece. Goyette, of St. Louis, has 10 goals and 20 assists and Boston's Orr four goals and a league leading 26 assists.

Fiddler on the Roof

AROUND THE WORLD IN FIVE YEARS

The Fiddler is a much traveled figure. He's not only fiddled on the roof of the world, he's arrived down under, too—and has girdled the globe from east to west—since his premiere in New York on September 22, 1964.

The musical is in its sixth Broadway year, and in its third year in both London and Melbourne, Australia. Its singing and dancing have been cheered in Israel, Finland, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland, Iceland, Germany, Argentina, Japan, Austria, Yugoslavia and South Africa. Due to be exposed to its charms are Paris, Mexico City, East Berlin, Antwerp, Warsaw, Madrid, Geneva, Chile, Istanbul, Montevideo. No doubt they will succumb.

It's an unlikely success story in some ways. Joseph Stein's book is based on Sholom Aleichem's humorous stories set in Anatevka, an impoverished, peasant village in the Tsarist Russia of 1905, populated largely by hard-working Jewish families. It's a time and an environment with a strong and special tradition. But these simple folk tales have a warm humanity which has proved to be of universal appeal, even today. And out of them has come this marvelously popular contemporary musical. Jerry Bock and Sheldon Harnick put together the music and the lyrics and, going on from strength to strength, Jerome Robbins set the whole show dancing with his choreography (and also directs the New York production).

We all still know how easily the fiddler could come to grief—whether or not we are familiar with the Chagall paintings which inspired the title of the show—and we all love the spirit which persists in making music while it may.

Theodore Bikel played Tevye in Las Vegas and Hawaii.

Amsterdam — Lex Goudsmit played Tevye here, is now the third Tevye in London.

Tokyo — Fubuki Koshiji (Golde) and Hisaya Morishige (Tevye) played at the Imperial Theater.

Boycott May Follow P.B. Shooting

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — The shooting of a Pine Bluff Negro man by a white man touched off a meeting Monday during which about 400 Arkansas AM&N students threatened to boycott Pine Bluff merchants.

Jefferson County Sheriff E. F. Oliver said Monday that Terrell L. Jacks, 54, of Pine Bluff was charged with first-degree murder in the shooting death of Percy Lee Jackson, 33, at a truck stop Saturday night on U.S. 79. Authorities said an AM&N coed and her date also were allegedly involved in the incident.

An unidentified Negro coed said during the assembly at AM&N that she received verbal insults and was hit on the head with a blackjack. She said Jacks, who owns the truck stop, attempted to intervene in an apparent argument that involved her date.

Oliver said Jacks told officers that he attempted to intervene in an argument between Jackson and another man.

Oliver said the shooting occurred outside the cafe at the truck stop. He said Jackson was shot once and died en route to a Pine Bluff hospital.

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Monday at North Little Rock that State Police units would be "available in minutes if the situation should get out of hand."

"We have come to the conclusion and feel very strongly that an early show of strength is as inciting as it is fast," the governor said. "We are on the alert and we don't make a show of force until there is a need and we hope there won't be."

The chairman of the student group at AM&N, Verna Clayborne, 21, said a petition was being circulated at the school and would be presented to the Pine Bluff Chamber of Commerce as an official protest against alleged discriminatory practices by Pine Bluff merchants and businesses.

She said all black people in the Pine Bluff would be asked to participate in the boycott if the group's demands were not met.

Lawrence A. Davis, president of AM&N, said he was confident an effort would be made to solve the problem and that the Chamber of Commerce would consider a petition in good faith. Davis did not attend the meeting.

"I do not think the mass of student body and the responsible student leaders have any desire to create disruption in the community," Davis said.

Hixson Has Shot at U.S. Pass Title

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Southern Methodist quarterback Chuck Hixson, to no one's surprise, is the Southwest Conference passing champion, but he'll have to wait until after Saturday's Florida-Miami game to be named the national passing champion for the second straight year.

Florida sophomore quarterback John Reeves needs to complete 25 passes Saturday to tie Hixson for the national passing title.

Should Hixson wind up on top again, he would become only the third collegiate quarterback in NCAA statistical bureau history to win back-to-back passing titles.

Davey O'Brien of TCU did it in 1937-38 and Don Trull of Baylor accomplished the feat in 1962-63.

Hixson finished the season with 217 completions in 362 attempts for 59.9 per cent. TCU's Steve Judy was Hixson, closest competition in the SWC with 144 completions on 283 attempts.

The Mustangs powerful tailback Daryl Doggett picked up a career high 151 yards rushing against Baylor Saturday to regain the SWC rushing lead.

Doggett likely will lose the lead to Arkansas' Bill Burnett, who is only 91 yards behind and still has two more games to play.

SMU sophomore Gary Hammond leads in receiving and kickoff returns. Hammond has snagged 51 passes for 722 yards and two touchdowns and has returned 27 kickoffs 617 yards.

In the team category, Texas, the nation's No. 1 ranked team, leads in all department except passing offense and passing defense. SMU is the passing offense leader with a 238.0 average and Texas Tech leads in passing defense with a 111.8 average.

Texas holds the lead in total offense (489.0 yards per game average); total defense (224.6); rushing offense (382.0) and rushing defense (88.6).

Berry to Replace Falcon's Johnson

ATLANTA (AP) — Atlanta Falcons' quarterback Bob Berry will be reactivated this week, Coach Norm Van Brocklin has announced. Berry will replace injured quarterback Randy Johnson on the roster, but it was not known Monday if Berry will be ready to play when the Falcons take on the Baltimore Colts Nov. 30.

Berry had been sidelined with a thumb injury since Oct. 5.

Esposito Is Big Name in Hockey

NEW YORK (AP) — It is only natural to find an Esposito among the National Hockey League statistics leaders every week.

Last season it was Boston's Phil Esposito, who shattered all scoring records when he accumulated 126 points. This season it's Phil's kid brother, Tony, of the Chicago Black Hawks. His specialty isn't scoring but keeping the other guy from doing it.

Tony, a rookie, leads all NHL goalies according to statistics released today. Acquired in the summer draft from Montreal, Esposito has three shutouts and has allowed only 23 goals in 13 games for a sparkling 1.77 goals against average.

Esposito and Denis DeJordy, Chicago's other goalie, have allowed a total of 35 goals—12 fewer than Montreal, their closest competitor in the Vezina Trophy race.

Phil Goyette and Bobby Orr are tied for the scoring lead with 30 points apiece. Goyette, of St. Louis, has 10 goals and 20 assists and Boston's Orr four goals and a league leading 26 assists.

Fiddler on the Roof

AROUND THE WORLD IN FIVE YEARS

The Fiddler is a much traveled figure. He's not only fiddled on the roof of the world, he's arrived down under, too—and has girdled the globe from east to west—since his premiere in New York on September 22, 1964.

The musical is in its sixth Broadway year, and in its third year in both London and Melbourne, Australia. Its singing and dancing have been cheered in Israel, Finland, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland, Iceland, Germany, Argentina, Japan, Austria, Yugoslavia and South Africa. Due to be exposed to its charms are Paris, Mexico City, East Berlin, Antwerp, Warsaw, Madrid, Geneva, Chile, Istanbul, Montevideo. No doubt they will succumb.

It's an unlikely success story in some ways. Joseph Stein's book is based on Sholom Aleichem's humorous stories set in Anatevka, an impoverished, peasant village in the Tsarist Russia of 1905, populated largely by hard-working Jewish families. It's a time and an environment with a strong and special tradition. But these simple folk tales have a warm humanity which has proved to be of universal appeal, even today. And out of them has come this marvelously popular contemporary musical. Jerry Bock and Sheldon Harnick put together the music and the lyrics and, going on from strength to strength, Jerome Robbins set the whole show dancing with his choreography (and also directs the New York production).

We all still know how easily the fiddler could come to grief—whether or not we are familiar with the Chagall paintings which inspired the title of the show—and we all love the spirit which persists in making music while it may.

Theodore Bikel played Teyve in Las Vegas and Hawaii.

Amsterdam — Lex Goudamit played Teyve here, is now the third Teyve in London.

Tokyo — Fubuki Koshiji (Golde) and Hisaya Morishige (Teyve) played at the Imperial Theater.

Tampere, Finland — Veikko Sinisalo as Teyve. Finland has had more productions of "Fiddler" than any other country.

Marketing Quotas Are Announced

Marketing quotas, farm allotments, price-support loan and payment rates, small farm provisions, and other features of the 1970-crop upland cotton program have been announced by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, according to Ralph Montgomery, Chairman of the Hempstead County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

This information is being provided cotton producers prior to the mail referendum, Dec. 1-5, on 1970-crop cotton marketing quotas.

If more than one-third of those voting disapprove quotas, the only cotton program would be price-support loans at 50 percent of parity for growers who do not exceed their acreage allotments.

If at least two-thirds of the Nation's upland cotton growers voting approve marketing quotas, the 1970 cotton program would go into effect. Mr. Montgomery said features of this cotton program would be as follows:

Allotments, Quotas and Yields: The national upland cotton allotment for 1970 is 17 million acres plus a 150,000-acre national reserve for establishment of minimum farm allotments. The State allotment is 1,415,364 acres, and the Hempstead County allotment is 3523 acres. This includes allocation from the national reserve 3,759 acres for the State and 0 acres for the county.

The national marketing quota has been set at 16,008,333 bales. Individual farm quotas would be that amount of cotton produced on acreage planted within the allotment.

The national projected yield per acre is 500 pounds. The State projected yield has been set at 517 pounds per acre. The projected yield for each farm is set by the County ASC Committee and is indicated on the cotton allotment notice sent operators for each cotton farm.

Price-support Loans and Payments: The national average price-support loan rate for Midland 1-inch cotton at average location has been set at 20.25 cents a pound for the 1970 crop, the same rate as for 1969.

The price-support payment rate has been established at 16.80 cents a pound, compared to 1969's rate of 14.73 cents a pound. The payment would be made to cooperators on acreage planted within the domestic allotment, which is 65 percent of the total farm allotment. The price-support loans would also be available to cooperators in the cotton program.

Small Farm Provisions: Farms with allotments of 10 acres or less with projected production (allotment times projected yield of 3,600 pounds or less could receive a payment of 11.95 cents per pound on the projected yield of 35 percent of the farm allotment in addition to the price-support payment on planted acreage up to the domestic allotment.

National Export Market Acreage: The 1970 export acreage reserve has been set at 62,500 acres. All cotton produced on farms receiving any export acreage reserve would have to be exported. Price-support loans and program payments would not be available for any of the cotton produced on the farm or on any other farm in which the operator with export market acreage had a substantial or controlling interest. Applications for export acreage must be filed by growers at county ASCS offices before the end of 1969.

Krause Named Best Defensive Player of Week

By PAT THOMPSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — His coach says Minnesota Vikings safety Paul Krause "has a fine instinct for the ball and he is rarely caught in a mistake."

But Grant's preseason appraisal of Krause proved out Sunday when Krause left his man, intercepted a pass and dashed 77 yards for the game's first touchdown in Minnesota's 52-14 stampede of Pittsburgh.

Later in the game, Krause intercepted another pass as the Vikings won their ninth straight. The performance won him The Associated Press Defensive Player of the Week title in the National Football League.

Krause explained his sparkling run this way: "We were blitzing and I took the first man out of the backfield (Dick Hoak). He took me right toward the intended receiver. The quarterback never saw me."

"I cut in front of the flanker and ran for the sidelines and he almost tackled me. I knew I had a good chance to score when I got to the sidelines."

The run, a Viking interception return record, is one of many sparkling plays Krause has turned in since the Vikings traded Marlin McKeever and a draft choice for him to the Washington Redskins before the 1968 season.

Jerry Reichow, Viking director of personnel, says Krause's intelligent play has "steadied our defensive backfield."

He told of his first train and auto ride which was on the same day, Jan. 6, 1902. The rides took place in Little Rock and at that time there was only two cars in that city.

Also, of interest was the first talking motion pictures which charged five cents. Pets, clothing and children of the family was talked about.

Compulsory School Rule Challenged

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A suit, asking that a state Welfare Department regulation concerning children who are not attending an "approved" school be nullified, was filed Monday in U.S. District Court at Little Rock.

Three Carthage women filed the suit.

The regulation prohibits parents or guardians from drawing aid for dependent children if the children are not attending a school approved by the state Education Department.

The plaintiffs, Venita Westbrook, Nancy Reece and Frances Brandon, said their children were among the 165 Negro students who are boycotting the Carthage public schools. They said their children were among 29 in the group who were eligible for welfare aid.

Welfare Commissioner Len. Blaylock has said aid for the 29 children would cease Dec. 1. The state Welfare Board is to meet today to determine if grants to the Carthage families, who have children participating in the boycott, should be terminated.

The students participating in the boycott are attending private schools established in churches.

The plaintiffs said they withdrew their children from the public schools because they were dissatisfied with "the physical treatment of black children" and with alleged "racially discriminatory policies of the administration and faculty of the school system."

The suit said enforcement of the Welfare Department regulation would force the families which receive aid to abandon their protest activities.

"The application or threatened application of the 'school attendance' regulation will and does have a chilling effect upon plaintiffs constitutionally protected rights to protest political, economic and cultural conditions," the suit said.

New Plea for Lowering Vote Age

By WILLIAM BARTON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Violence Commission, deploring "growing antagonism between young and old," recommended today lowering the voting age to 18 to give young people a greater voice in government.

It also endorsed President Nixon's draft reform proposals and urged new legislation to expand employment opportunities. And it urged revision of state and federal laws to "make use and incidental possession of marijuana no more than a misdemeanor until more definitive information about marijuana is at hand."

Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, commission chairman, saying youths are being alienated by being called upon to defend values and causes, such as the Vietnam war, in which they don't believe, suggested the least the country could do would be to give them a voice in deciding issues such as the war.

"Lowering the voting age will not eliminate protests by the young," the commission said in a 12-page report. "But it will provide them with a direct, constructive and democratic channel for making their views felt and for giving them a responsible stake in the future of the nation."

Noting only two states—Georgia and Kentucky—permit 18-year-olds to vote, the commission pointed out young people are "treated as adults by the criminal law" and forced to give "the ultimate service, the highest sacrifice, when we require them to perform military service."

"Many young men have become battle-tested veterans and some have died on the battlefield before they could vote. Their way of life—and, for some, even the duration of life itself—is dictated by laws made and enforced by men they do not elect. This is fundamentally unjust," it contended.

Calling today's youth the best educated the country has ever produced, Eisenhower said, "A very high percentage, 75 to 80 percent, are opposed to the war yet only a very tiny percentage has refused to serve."

He said his figure was based on his own experiences with young people.

Quarter of Tires Fail Safety Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tires made by four major American manufacturers and said to meet government safety standards failed 30 out of 120 tests of compliance, the Department of Transportation says.

The failures in tests by independent laboratories hired by the government involved endurance, high speed performance and strength, the department announced Monday.

A tire industry spokesman, however, discounted the test results as giving "a very misleading and distorted view of the overall situation."

"The favorable experience of millions of motorists over many years with good, safe tires far outweighs a few isolated laboratory tests," said Ross R. Ormsby, chairman of the Tire Industry Safety Council.

A spokesman for the Department of Transportation said the government has taken no action against manufacturers on the basis of the tests and none have been recalled.

Tests involved tires made by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., B. F. Goodrich, Armstrong Rubber Co., and the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co.

Spokesmen for B. F. Goodrich and Firestone disputed the results, saying too few of the millions of automobile tires produced each year were tested to get a representative picture.

The department did not release a description of how the tests were conducted. It emphasized test failures do not automatically mean a safety violation, and test successes do not establish compliance.

Love America Week in Joplin

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP) — This is "We Love America Week" in Joplin and surrounding communities and citizens are wearing red, white and blue arm bands to prove it.

A supply of 30,000 arm bands was exhausted Monday, and 20,000 more were ordered.

"I never expected it to be anything like this," said Dr. J.B. Simon, an optometrist who proposed that people wear the arm bands to show their patriotism, without political angles or any connection with the controversy over the Vietnam war.

Mayor Larry Hickey issued a proclamation in honor of the week and many civic and fra-

State Draft Quota Is Cut to 136

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Col. Willard A. Hawkins, state Selective Service director, said Monday that Arkansas' quota for the January draft call is 136 men.

The national draft call for January has been cut from 35,000 to 12,500 by Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird.

Hawkins said the January call did not include any instructions on using a random selection procedure, which has been approved. He said the speculation was that the method would be in effect in February.

Internal organizations joined in supporting the observance.

Wanted: Full House for TV Cameras Thursday

Coach Frank Broyles joins telecasters in expressing the fear that because Thursday's football game between the University of Arkansas and Texas Tech in War Memorial Stadium at Little Rock is being telecast many fans will prefer watching the game at home, leaving rows of empty seats in the stadium to be revealed to the nation.

The Star therefore has resolved to join the effort to fill up the stadium for the benefit of Arkansas' reputation before the TV cameras.

Today we guaranteed 50 or more end-zone tickets for students, with as many additional adult tickets as are required for the drivers of cars taking them to the game.

We are offering tickets and transportation for our entire crew of newspaper carriers and supervisors, totaling 33.

In addition we have offered to cover the ticket cost for the Hope Bobcat squad if the local schools will furnish transportation, we to furnish the necessary adults accompanying them, with tickets.

This may run the total far above 50, depending upon how many of our carriers decide to go—but whatever the cost it's a worth-while gesture this Thanksgiving Day when the television eyes of the nation will be upon Arkansas.

And this final word: If you already have adult tickets to the Little Rock game but don't intend to use them because you prefer to watch on your home TV set, then make sure your tickets are given to people who will go to the stadium—whether adults or students.

Get busy NOW.

Steve Owens Is Heisman Winner

NEW YORK (AP) — Steve Owens of Oklahoma, a record-setting ball-carrier in an age of passers, was named winner to the 1969 Heisman Trophy, symbol of college football's outstanding football player.

The 6-2, 215-pound senior tailback from Miami, Okla., is the sport's top touchdown maker of all-time and has set a three-year career record for rushing.

In one of the closest competitions in years, Owens bested such stars as Mike Phipps of Purdue, Rex Kern of Ohio State, Archie Manning of Mississippi and Jim Plunkett of Stanford, all quarterbacks. The award will be made Dec. 4 at the Downtown Athletic Club.

With 21 touchdowns already this year, and a final game to play Saturday against Oklahoma State, the Sooners ace has a career total of 54 touchdowns, surpassing the record of 52 set by Army's Glenn Davis in 1944-46. With 3,606 rushing yards he has shattered the three-year mark of 2,675 set by Kansas' Gayle Sayers in 1962-64.

Owens ran up 100 yards or more in 17 consecutive games before being held to 72 last Saturday by Nebraska. He is tied for the scoring lead with Mack Herron of Kansas State with 126 points and he ranks fourth among the major college rushers for the year with 1,216 yards in 303 plays. He needs 148 yards in his final game to overtake Ed Marinaro of Cornell, whose season is complete, for the rushing championship.

Owens, 21, received 1,488 points and barely beat out Phipps, who had 1,334.

Kern was third with 856 points in a poll of 992 electors. Manning was fourth, followed by a pair of defensive tackles Mike Reid of Penn State and Mike McCoy of Notre Dame.

State Needs 35 Million, WR Declares

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, who received about $24 million in taxes from the legislature earlier this year, said Monday that another $35 million in tax increases were needed to help the state past a growing financial crisis.

He also told about 150 Kiwanis Club members at a luncheon here that he was still considering asking the legislature to approve the tax increases in a special session.

"As I keep reminding my friends in the press about the timing of a special session, the decision on when to call it is my prerogative," he said. "I will announce it when I'm ready."

The governor said a special session would be needed to make changes in a salary and job classification plan approved by the legislature this year, and that he might call a special session for action on that matter "if for no other reason."

"The legislature in principle has supported many areas of our program but has not provided the funding," Rockefeller said. "We haven't been given enough money to keep our promises. We're going to find ourselves where we have to close facilities that are seriously needed."

Monday's appearance by the governor concluded his regional tours of the state, during which he has been attempting to drum up support for his tax increases.

Rockefeller said Monday that Arkansas has had no major tax increase in 12 years and that figures indicate taxes in the state are 4.5 per cent below the national per capita average.

The governor said $1,350,000 was needed for Arkansas "to come out even with Mississippi" on salaries for state employees. He said Mississippi employees get an average of $10.35 per week more than state employees in Arkansas.

"It is the first time in my 17 years in Arkansas that Arkansas has been below Mississippi in anything," Rockefeller said.

The governor said that treatment centers approved in principle by the legislature cannot be built due to a lack of money and that those under construction cannot be staffed for the same reason.

Hope Choirs to Present a Pop Rally

The Yerger Junior High and the Hope High School choirs will present a pop concert called the "POP RALLY" Tuesday night, November 25 at 7:30 p.m. in the Hope High School auditorium. The music for the program has been selected to appeal to young and old and includes such numbers as "Scarborough Fair," "Sound of Silence" and "Aquarius". Admission is free and all students, parents, teachers and friends are invited to attend.

The Junior High Choir is composed of 40 students and has sung for a school assembly and the PTA installation of officers. The senior choir has 58 members and has presented two assemblies at the high school this year. The Hope Madrigal Singers, composed of 12 auditioned voices, will also perform. All groups are under the direction of Miss Juanita Nicholson.

Hearing Set on Utilities' Rates

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Public Service Commission will hold a preliminary hearing today on its order to 24 Arkansas utilities to withdraw special promotional rates unless they can justify them.

The PSC said recently that special rates offered to customers who bought certain types of electrical or gas equipment might produce "unreasonable discrimination" against other customers who had to pay higher rates.

Women Fliers to Aid Holiday Road Patrol

Assisting Arkansas State Police Troopers during the 102 hour Thanksgiving holiday period will be a group of women pilots known as the Ninety-Nines. The lady pilots will patrol many of the state's major highways from the air during selected periods, being alert for traffic congestions, accidents, serious conditions, and hazards. The women pilots are flying at their own expense, merely to render a service.

Would Tax Industry on Pollution

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire says a potential solution to the water pollution problem would be a federal fee charged to industries on the basis of the amount of wastes they dump into the nation's lakes and streams.

The Wisconsin Democrat says adoption of this new strategy in the pollution war would give industry a meaningful incentive to curb waste production and produce billions of dollars for the construction of vitally needed municipal waste treatment plants.

The nation's 12-year battle against water pollution has been a near total failure that has cost more than $5.4 billion in federal funds, Proxmire said in a Senate speech introducing the pollution.

Under the present strategy, Proxmire told the Senate, "It is simply cheaper in many cases for an industry to pay a fine and continue polluting the water than to develop pollution control devices . . . The only way to reverse this system is to make it economical not to pollute."

Proxmire said that under his bill an industrial polluter would pay a fee based on the demand placed on water used in disposing of waste products and the toxic content of the waste.

Presence of 'Echo Chamber' Cited as Moonquake's Cause

By BILL STOCKTON
AP Science Writer
SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Scientists now think the strange lunar reverberations detected after their man-made moonquake might have been caused by a huge underground "echo chamber."

They theorize the echo chamber is a jumbled layer of rocky debris sandwiched between the hard surface of the Ocean of Storms and an underlying hard lunar material. The debris may have been formed eons ago during some cataclysmic lunar event.

Strange reverberations lasted 55 minutes after the Apollo 12 lunar lander was deliberately crashed to produce a moonquake. Seismic devices left by the astronauts detected the reverberations and radioed them to earth.

For some unknown reason, the scientific theorists say, energy from the crash might have bounced back and forth through the rubble like sound in an echo chamber.

Moon Crew, Down Safely, Head Home

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
ABOARD USS HORNET (AP) — Healthy and relaxed in their quarantine trailer, America's untouchable astronauts sailed toward Hawaii today while eager scientists prepared to open their moon-rock treasure chests.

Charles Conrad Jr., Richard F. Gordon Jr. and Alan L. Bean showed no ill effects from their 10-day lunar expedition—except for a knot on Bean's head.

He hit it during splashdown and appeared at the back window of the quarantine quarters wearing a bandage.

Otherwise the three were declared sound after initial physical examinations.

They arrive at Pearl Harbor about 5:30 p.m. EST Friday, then fly nonstop to the Manned Spacecraft Center—MSC—at Houston, Tex.

They will be slightly behind their two boxes of moon rocks, brought back from the Ocean of Storms. The treasure chests arrive today at Ellington Air Force Base near MSC.

Officials said a C141 Starlifter carrying the first box arrives at Ellington about 2:45 p.m., with the second due about 10:05 p.m.

The schedule calls for both boxes to be put in a vacuum chamber at MSC's Lunar Receiving Laboratory, the first box to be opened Wednesday morning and the second later the same day.

Indians Squat on Alcatraz in Protest

By JIM CHURCH
Associated Press Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — They have risked drowning, shivered from the cold, suffered shortages of food and fresh water. When boats get close, they shout "What have you got?" But more than 100 American Indians, including women and infants, vow to remain on Alcatraz Island until federal or state officials meet their demands.

They want help in reconstructing a burned out San Francisco Indian Center and increased aid to 100,000 Indians in California.

So far, the landlord of the former federal prison, the General Services Administration, has given them no deadline in which to get off. Interior Secretary Walter Hickel has agreed to meet with them, but no arrangements for the talks have been made.

Today, the sixth day of their occupation, the Indians appealed for money and Thanksgiving Day provisions through their "Alcatraz Relief Fund."

Fresh water, food, blankets and medicine come by boat. A call went out Monday for tetanus vaccine after several youngsters cut their feet on rusty nails.

There is no heat except from firewood ripped off the ramshackle cellblocks, and dozens of Indians have colds and sore throats.

They have no refrigeration for food.

They cook food on a broken fireplace grating.

Above the dining area hangs a sign: "This land is my land."

The Indians are serious about claiming the island. As a precedent they cite an 1868 treaty that returned abandoned federal property to the Sioux nation.

"Alaska is next," says 26-year-old Richard Cakes, a Mohawk who is called "president of Alcatraz."

Why take Alcatraz, which is hardly habitable?

"When you see most of the reservations in this country, Alcatraz looks pretty good," says Adam Nordwall, 40, a Chippewa who heads the Indians' United Bay Area Council.

Cool Wave Entering Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cooler weather is again in store for Arkansas as the U.S. Weather Bureau expected another cold front to move across the state by late tonight.

The front will tend to help maintain a high pressure ridge over the state, producing fair to partly cloudy skies Wednesday and Thursday. No rain is forecast.

Temperatures should turn colder tonight with lows in the northern sections in the 20s, and in the 30s and 40s over the rest of the state.

The Thanksgiving Day outlook is for partly cloudy skies and a little warmer.

Some light rain was reported in the extreme southern portion of Arkansas this morning.

Overnight lows around the state included 44 at Blytheville and Jonesboro, 34 at Fayetteville, 41 at Harrison, 52 at Pine Bluff, 51 at Little Rock, 48 at Memphis and 53 at Texarkana and El Dorado.

Long Weekend Death Toll May Reach 800

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council estimates that 700 to 800 persons may die in traffic accidents during the four day Thanksgiving weekend.

The period covered by the estimate extends from 6 p.m. Wednesday to midnight Sunday.

The figures announced Monday were the first council estimate for a Thanksgiving weekend. Until now, the council had considered Thanksgiving a stay-at-home day of feasting which generated no heavy volume of highway traffic.

Congressional Probe May Follow Court Martial on Massacre

Ordered by Officer to Kill, Says GI

NEW YORK (AP) — A 22-year-old Army veteran says in a CBS television interview that he killed "10 or 15" Vietnamese civilians on orders from Lt. William L. Calley Jr. during the alleged massacre at My Lai in March 1968.

The Army announced Monday that Calley would be given a general court-martial on charges of premeditated murder in the deaths of 109 men, women and children in the village of My Lai.

"Why did you do it?" the veteran, Paul Meadlo of Terre Haute, Ind., was asked by interviewer Mike Wallace on the CBS Evening News with Walter Cronkite.

"Why did I do it? Because I felt like I was ordered to do it. And it seemed like I realized—at the time I felt like I was doing the right thing," Meadlo said.

"Because like I said," he continued, "I lost buddies, I lost a damn good buddy, Bobby Wilson, and it was on my conscience. So after I done it I felt good, but later on that day, it was gettin' to me."

Meadlo said in the interview that he estimated "just by looking" that 370 men, women, children and babies were killed that day in My Lai.

He said the "company commander, Capt. Ernest Medina, 'was right there. Why didn't he put a stop to it? He knew what was going on . . . he was right there . . . he could put a stop to it anytime he wanted to."

Medina was Calley's immediate superior.

Calley's attorney, George W. Latimer, said in Salt Lake City: "I'm not sure why (Meadlo) is talking. And I don't know anything about his credibility or the circumstances of the interview. I think it's not good ethics for a witness to be telling things in the press before a trial."

Meadlo said in the interview that the day after the My Lai incident he stepped on a land mine and subsequently lost a foot. He is now out of the Army.

Following are excerpts from the CBS interview: Wallace: How many people did you round up?

Meadlo: Well, there was about 40-45 people that we gathered.

Lieutenant Responsible, Says Army

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army spokesmen say regulations prevent them from clarifying whether 1st Lt. William L. Calley Jr. is accused of pulling the trigger or issuing the orders in the alleged murder of 109 Vietnamese civilians.

But while the Pentagon was being vague on the specifics of its case, a man identified as a former soldier said in a television interview Monday night that he killed 10 to 15 of the Vietnamese under Calley's orders and that the officer also shot a group of villagers. The former Army private's name was given as Paul Meadlo, 22, of Terre Haute, Ind.

And as the furor over the alleged massacre grew, members of Congress began moving toward their own investigation of the incident.

The Army said Monday Calley would be court-martialed on charges of premeditated murder in the 1968 raid on the village of My Lai.

The specifications were explicit in saying that Calley did "with premeditation murder . . . Oriental human beings . . . by means of shooting them with a rifle." The six specifications listed a total of 109 victims including a two-year-old child.

Pressed by newsmen, the Army finally issued a legalistic statement saying:

"Whether Lt. Calley is alleged to be the actual perpetrator of each of the murders charged in the specification, or whether he is charged as an aider and abettor, or as one who counseled, commanded or procured the commission of the offenses would require a rather detailed discussion of the evidence in the case."

Regulations prohibit this, the Army said.

In a Senate speech, Young said he already has asked for "an immediate investigation of this sordid affair . . ."

He said the case is evidence of "the brutalization of a generation of Americans by our involvement in an immoral, undeclared war," and likened it to the conduct of Nazi storm troops.

Percy said the Pentagon had sacrificed public confidence "by incredibly hiding the facts" of the alleged massacre at the time it occurred 20 months ago.

The Army announced Monday that Lt. Gen. William R. Peers has been assigned to determine whether the brigade involved in the March 1968, incident had tried to cover it up in an earlier, lower level investigation.

Alexander, who is a member of the House Agriculture Committee, told the annual meeting of the Arkansas Farm Bureau here that the farm population in Garland County is still dwindling.

He said farmers represented 23.2 per cent of the total population in 1940. They now represent only five per cent of the total population, he said.

Alexander said Congress is considering farm legislation to replace the present farm program which expires in another year.

"This legislation must be approved in 1970," he said, adding that the quality of legislation approved is related to the degree of unity among various groups that would be affected by the legislation.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., urged investigations by both the Pentagon and the Senate, while Sen. Stephen Young, D-Ohio, said he has asked for an immediate investigation by the Senate Armed Services Committee. It seemed unlikely the panel would take up the alleged mass killings while a court martial inquiry is in progress.

"You can't have more than one operation at a time," Mansfield said. "I think the Army ought to have the opportunity to conduct its own inquiry."

Mansfield said after that process is complete, the Senate panel should decide whether further investigation is needed.

Calley was the first American soldier formally charged in connection with the reported mass slayings at My Lai village. Another Army man has been accused of assault with intent to murder Vietnamese villagers, and the Army is investigating 24 other men.

In the House, Chairman L. Mendall Rivers of the Armed Services Committee said Monday he has asked the Army for its files on the incident to see if his panel should investigate.

"We'll be sitting as a kind of quasi-grand jury," said the South Carolina Democrat.
